MASTER OF ARTS IN INTERNATIONAL ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM
SPRING COURSES
JANUARY 13, 2020 – MAY 6, 2020

IGS 611-KL “International Organizations”

Ambassador Paul A. Trivelli/Dr. Bradford McGuinn
Wednesday 6:35PM-9:20PM

MM 315

This course covers the entire spectrum of international organizations and the theoretical and practical issues relating to international organizations including peace and security, human rights, and economic development.

(Course is open to all students at the University of Miami)

IGS 612-UV “International Administration”

Professor Jose Ganitsky
Tuesday

6:35PM-9:20PM

MM 200

This course presents a broad overview of concepts, theories, processes, and practical global challenges confronting professional public/nonprofit managers; discusses contemporary issues facing multi-national corporations, non- government organizations, and public agencies; and analyzes the similarities and differences between public, non-profit and private management.

(Course is open to all students at the University of Miami)

IGS 615-UV “International Economics for MAIA”

Dr. Maxime Larive
Thursday

6:35PM-9:20PM

MM 200

This course reviews the essentials of International Economics. It then provides students with an operational understanding of the theory of comparative advantage and its application to policy issues.

IGS 645-KL

"Human Security"

Dr. Dina Moulioukova

Monday 6:35-9:20pm

MM 315

Theoretical approaches and the major global threats to human security along with some of the most promising policy solutions will be explored. Some of these human security threats are well known, like genocide, and others, like cybersecurity, are newly emerging. Focus will be placed on key human security topics such as war, terrorism, human trafficking, climate change, famine, violence against women, and infectious and non-infectious diseases.

IGS 617-01

"Practicum in International Administration"

Dr. Bradford McGuinn

Arranged

The practicum gives students the opportunity to apply academic theory and acquired skills in international administration under real world conditions. Students first complete an approved internship in an appropriate organization and then present a report/case study analysis under the supervision of the MAIA faculty.

IGS 820-01

"MAIA Masters Project"

Dr. Bradford McGuinn

Arranged

For students conducting additional research, practice, field experience or special projects as part of their graduate experience.
